Instructions to candidates:

There are TWO parts to this paper: Part 1 and Part 2. Answer both questions.

Part 1: Situational Writing (15 marks)

Your Task

Imagine you are the boy who had given up his seat to the pregnant lady.

Write an email to your cousin, Sandy, telling her about this incident.

You are to refer to the pictures and information on page 1 for your email.

In your email, include the following information:

- where and when the incident took place
- what made you give up your seat
- what happened immediately after you had given up your seat
- your reaction to what had happened
- the value you think others in the same situation should exhibit

You may re-order the points. You should write in complete sentences.

Part 2: Continuous Writing (40 marks)

Write a composition of at least 150 words about an unforgettable experience.

The pictures are provided to help you think about this topic.

Your composition should be based on one or more of these pictures.

Consider the following points when you plan your composition.

- What was the experience?
- Why was it unforgettable?

You may use the points in any order and include other relevant points as well.

My son was in Kuwait in 1991. He was fiercely battling the Gulf War. One awful day that year, a military car stopped in front of my record shop. Two uniformed soldiers quietly entered my store with serious looks on their faces. I immediately froze behind the counter, unable to breathe. Suddenly, one of them asked, "Do you have any Elton John records?" With a faint sigh, I felt a sense of relief. The soldiers were not there to inform me that my son had died but to buy records. My thoughts went back to my son, glad that at that moment, he was still alive.

JOIN US FOR A WEEK YOU WILL REMEMBER FOREVER!

Sign up for the Super Kids Diving Course with Family Divers and experience what it is like to be a professional diver:

PHASE ONE: SASY PROGRAMME (1 – 2 June 2018)

'SASY' is a Surface Supplied Air System that resembles a scuba unit with a small tank and regulator and is designed to float on the surface. The SASY programme is for those interested in learning basic snorkel/scuba dive skills in the pool and the ocean. You will breathe through the regulator which creates bubbles. This makes it feel like you are diving in deep water although you are on the surface.

Prior to the pool session, your parents must complete a medical questionnaire about your medical conditions that could pose a problem while diving. If necessary, your parents may be required to submit a doctor's letter to certify that you are fit to dive.

PHASE TWO: SEAL TEAM PROGRAMME (3 - 7 June 2018)

Have you ever wondered what it's like to dive with a flashlight, or take digital pictures underwater? Beyond learning basic scuba skills, there are specialty AquaMissions such as wreck diving, navigation, buoyancy, environmental awareness and more.

The Family Divers SEAL TEAM Programme includes doing some cool stuff in the pool, making new friends and sharing in the adventure of the underwater world.

AquaMissions 1 – 5:

Learn basic scuba diving skills which include:

- breathing underwater
- clearing a mask of water
- recovering a regulator

Complete these AquaMissions and become a recognised Seal Team Member.

AquaMissions 6 - 10:

Enjoy Specialty Adventures which include:

- creature identification
- search and recovery diving
- skin diving.

Complete all of these missions and you'll become a Master Seal Team Member.

How can you start learning?

Sign up at our office located at Lion Country Club. Be the first 20 to sign up and get a 10% discount and a Family Divers shirt for free.

Submit your registration forms by 10 May 2018.

What scuba gear will you use?

You will learn to use the basic scuba gear: a mask, snorkel, fins, regulator, buoyancy control device, dive gauges, and a tank. Contact us at 6712 4567 to ask about your gear and get advice about how to prepare for your Super Kids Diving Course.

For each question from 21 to 28, shade your answer (1, 2, 3 or 4) on the Optical Answer Sheet.

In 1883, an engineer named John Roebling was inspired by an idea to build a bridge connecting New York with Long Island. However, experts throughout the world thought that that was an impossible feat. Roebling could not ignore the vision he had in his mind. He knew deep in his heart that it could be done. He just had to share the dream with someone else. After much persuasion, he managed to convince his son, Washington, an up-and-coming engineer, that the bridge in fact could be built. 5

Working together, father and son developed concepts of how it could be accomplished and how the obstacles could be overcome. With great excitement and inspiration, they hired their crew and began to build their dream bridge. The project started well, but when it was only a few months underway, a tragic accident on the site took John's life. Washington was also injured and was left with a certain amount of brain damage, which resulted in him not being able to talk or walk. 10

"We told them so." "Crazy men and their crazy dreams." "It's foolish to chase wild visions." Everyone felt that the project should be scrapped since the Roeblings were the only ones who had the know-how. In spite of his handicap, Washington was not discouraged and still had a burning desire to complete the bridge. His mind was still as sharp as ever. He tried to inspire and pass on his enthusiasm to some of his friends, but they were too daunted by the task. 15

As Washington lay on his bed in the hospital room, with the sunlight streaming through the windows, a gentle breeze blew the flimsy white curtains apart and he was able to see the sky and the tops of the trees outside for just a moment. It seemed that there was a message for him not to give up. Suddenly, an idea hit him. All he could do was move one finger, so he decided to make the best use of it. 20

By moving his finger, Washington slowly developed a code of communication with his wife. He touched his wife's arm with that finger, indicating to her that he wanted her to call the engineers again. Then he used the same method of tapping her arm to tell the engineers what to do. It seemed foolish but the project was underway again. 25

For 13 years, Washington tapped out his instructions with his finger on his wife's arm, until the bridge was finally completed. Today, the spectacular Brooklyn Bridge stands in all its glory as a tribute to the triumph of one man's invincible spirit and his determination not to be defeated by circumstances. It is also a tribute to the engineers and their teamwork, and to their faith in a man who was considered mad by half the world. It stands too as a tangible monument to his wife who for 13 long years decoded the messages of her husband and told the engineers what to do. 30

71 What was the name of the structure Washington inspired his engineers to build? [1m]

72 What happened to John Roebling after the project to build the bridge had started? [2m]

73 Fill in the blanks with words from paragraphs 2 to 3 that have the same meanings as the following words. [3m]

conquered
abandoned
frightened

74 Pick out a four-word phrase from the third paragraph that tells us that Washington was filled with strong determination to achieve his dream. [1m]

75 Which two of the following words best describe how Washington felt in paragraph 4?

Put a tick ✓ in the box beside each of your answers. [2m]

DO NOT TICK MORE THAN TWO BOXES.

hopeful

discouraged

renewed

relieved

76 Write 1, 2 and 3 in the blanks below to indicate the order in which the events occurred in the story. [1m]

_____ Everyone felt that the project should be abandoned.

_____ Washington met with an accident.

_____ Washington and his wife developed a code of communication.

77 Based on the story, state whether each statement in the table below is true or false, then give one reason why you think so. [3m]

	True/False	Reason
John Roebling managed to easily get Washington's help to build the bridge.
Washington could not think clearly after the accident.
Washington could not communicate with the engineers directly.

- 78 Look at the table below. What do the words in the left column refer to in the passage? Write your answers in the column on the right. [3m]

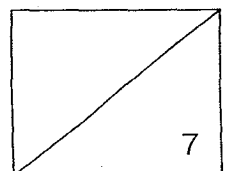

Word from the passage	What the word refers to vision (line 3)
handicap (line 15)
idea (line 22)

- 79 The writer describes Washington as having 'determination not to be defeated by circumstances' (lines 30 and 31). State two actions of Washington in the story to support this description. [2m]

First action
Second action

- 80 Would you describe Washington's wife as a dedicated woman? Support your answer with an example of how Washington's wife showed this characteristic. [2m]
